MY PROCESS

Each event is unique in its own way and I always make adjustments to achieve the best outcome. I'm also open to new ideas, so please let me know if you have an idea you would like to discuss. Generally for most events, I will arrive early to set up and start painting the environment, including floral and other design elements. As the guests arrive I will start painting them in. You will let me know beforehand who you would like me to include. That is completely up to you but suggestions are: both sets of parents, grandparents, siblings, children in the wedding and some or all members of the wedding party. Some brides are keeping it simple and just including parents and siblings or even just the two of them as the focus.

I take photos throughout the night to use in my studio, where I will get a likeness of your family and friends. By the end of the evening the canvas is covered and the figures are in. It is a loose and painterly piece. I work on some details in the studio but in keeping with the true spirit of impressionism, my goal is to keep it loose and painterly. Once it is finished, I will email you a proof for your approval. After you approve, I will varnish the painting and ship it to you, fully insured, via UPS (included in fee) or you may pick it up, if you are in the D/FW area.
